

Save the date! Short Waves Festival comes back next summer!
14th edition of the festival will take place in June 14-19, 2022, in Poznań, Poland.

14th Short Waves Festival – International Short Film Festival based in Poznań, Poland – will take place in June 14-19, 2022. Organizers again have decided to set the dates for summer, which will make possible to program various festival events not only in the screening rooms but also within unique outdoor spaces of the city.

Only last year – within cinemas, open-air locations and via festival's online platform – over 8.000 audience members have taken part in Short Waves 2021 watching almost 300 short films in the program!

Planning the 14th Short Waves Festival is in full motion and meanwhile, the call for competition entries (International Competition, Polish Competition, Dances with Camera, Urban View and Polish Experimental Film Competition) for 2022 is set to begin on the 1st of October via FilmFreeway website: <https://filmfreeway.com/ShortWavesFestival>
